

Since I need to travel for my job, I am often in different cities throughout the course of a day. Therefore, I find it invaluable to be able to find a local traffic/weather station with a glance at my guide, as opposed to searching and waiting, while still driving, for the appropriate information to progress on my trip.